is a fantastically
aesthetically beautiful
and sensory-based – yes,
I would almost say,
impressionistic piece.”

in the Full Moon

Performance with Donald Kitt

Fool in the Full Moon

A fool sits on his baggage, a box full of dreams. Dreams of flying, and recipes for how to do it.

He recalls his childhood and youth and how his secret friend and co-conspirator, Leonardo da Vinci, inspired him and has never stopped supporting him in his endless endeavours.

The fool fantasizes about flying machines, about wheels that turn, about floating castles, and about wings that lift him free from both gravity and the daily grind.

He dances and sings his way into a magnificent universe. A landscape where imagination and creativity reign, and where Leonardo is omnipresent with his good advice and – at times – extreme challenges.
